[The Guardian] Resisting Faragism offers the Lib Dems a rare clarity of purpose | Rafael Behr

Wed, 24 Sep 2025 05:00:17 GMT

Ed Davey's rallying cry in defence of moderate, liberal Britain might give some coherence to a party with a reputation for opportunism. In the polarised climate of British politics, irritation with Liberal Democrats is one of the few things that Labour and Tory MPs have in common. Parliament's two biggest parties see ea

[City AM] Even in Lib Dem Bournemouth, Farage makes the weather

Wed, 24 Sep 2025 04:45:00 +0000

Two important speeches took place yesterday, attracting, I suspect, very different sized audiences. At the United Nations in New York, US President Donald Trump disregarded the 15 minute slot he'd been allocated to embark on a rambling, contentious, provocative and interesting speech to the assembled nations. Mea

[City AM] Reform's lessons from the Lib Dems in what not to do

Wed, 24 Sep 2025 04:28:00 +0000

There's more to the Lib Dems than Ed Davey's ridiculous stunts. If Nigel Farage wants to turn his polling lead into lasting power he would do well to learn from their effective ground game as well as their mistakes, says Emma Revell. Reform UK is riding so high at the moment, pollsters might have [..
